

Carbondale New School Homeschool Initiative

Do you homeschool your children? Do you wish that you had the resources to include Spanish and music in your homeschool curriculum? Carbondale New School, a local private elementary school, is starting a new program for homeschool families in the area. This program will feature weekly Spanish and music classes for homeschooled children in Kindergarten through 8th grade. Students in the program will have 30 minute sessions each of Spanish and/or music for 12 weeks, starting on September 24th and ending on December 17th. Customize your program to make it personal for your student! You can sign up your student for both classes, or for just one. Find more information below, or call the school to talk to the director, Amanda Sheridan, about the program.
